IN THE GENERAL COURT OF JUSTICE
DISTRICT COURT DIVISION
CASE NO. 2014 CR 01932
CASE NO. 2014 CR 50712

THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,

Plaintiff,

v.

KHALED ABED AMMAR,

Defendant.

ORDER ON MOTION FOR RETURN OF EQUIPMENT

THIS CAUSE came on to be heard and was heard before the undersigned District Court Judge presiding, and the Court, after considering a motion made by counsel for Defendant for return of certain equipment and personal property seized by the City of Asheville Police Department, which was made after the State took a voluntary dismissal of the charges against the Defendant in this matter, the Court concludes that the four Gift Surplus video machines, the cash and all other property that were seized in connection with this matter should be returned to the Defendant.

IT IS NOW THEREFORE Ordered, Adjudged, and Decreed that the City of Asheville Police Department shall promptly return to the Defendant, or his designated agent, the Gift Surplus video machines, the cash and all other property that were seized in connection with the criminal charges brought against the Defendant in this matter.

THIS the 21st day of August, 2014.
